Addendum 5 2015 SUNFISH YOUTH WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Race Area – Bahía de Paracas, Ica (PERU) and other important information:

Travel and distance from Lima to Paracas by car: Lima – Paracas: 3hrs - 250 km (155 miles).

The race area of the event will be located in Paracas Bay, 22 kms south of Pisco, 7 kms north of Ica and 250 kms south of Lima.

Paracas has an average annual temperature of 22°C, mostly sunny.

Paracas Bay (source Wikipedia): Paracas bay, with its southern end lying within the Paracas National Reservation is well known for its abundant wildlife. The unique ecosystem, insulated from thrashing ocean waves and current by Paracas Peninsula, and its shallow warmer waters, stimulates a remarkable growth of seaweed for which much of the wildlife, particularly the birds of Paracas, thrive upon directly or indirectly. The bay appears as the gateway to Paracas National Reserve, its warmer shallow waters foster wildlife and many nautical sports, and its calm shoreline protects the municipality of Paracas and the various cottages and hotels that have sprung up in the last few years. As of recent years, the bay has hosted many sailors on catamarans and kitesurfers seeking the flat water and strong wind found in the bay (source: Wikipedia).

Paracas Peninsula (source Wikipedia): The Paracas Peninsula is a desert peninsula within the boundaries of the Paracas National Reservation, a marine reserve which extends south along the coast. The only marine reserve in Peru, it is a designated UNESCO World Heritage Site. The peninsula is located within the Paracas District of the Pisco Province in the Ica Region, on the south coast of Peru. This unusual peninsula may be best known for the Paracas Candelabra, a prehistoric geoglyph nearly 600 feet (183 m) tall on the north face of the peninsula ridge. Pottery nearby was dated to 200 BCE, placing it within the Paracas culture.^[1] Its origins and purpose have inspired many theories.

A shipping port was built along the northern peninsula, where deeper water permits larger transport and cruise ships to anchor. Tourists can have access to the Paracas National Reservation, a large marine reserve, while the ships are protected against ocean waves and currents. The peninsula includes red sand beaches formed from sands eroded from nearby cliffs.

The port is reached by a single road from the mainland, that goes through the Paracas National Reservation. The Centre Museum, also called the Paracas Museum, holds several ancient artifacts from the Paracas Culture. It also provides detailed information and interpretation about the flora and fauna native to the Reservation, including the many varieties of birds of Paracas.

Other lodging alternatives:

In the following map you might find other lodging options in Paracas. The most important hotels are: Double Tree Hilton Paracas (venue), Hotel Libertador Paracas (Starwood), Hotel La Hacienda Paracas, Hotel Aranwa Paracas and Hotel San Agustín Paracas.
